

Foreword

This work is based on the courses on «Worldviews» which I give at the University of Navarra. It contains the topics covered in the second semester, which are independent of those covered in the first semester. The dialogues are arranged in chronological order. The questions raised by the character «S» in the dialogues are those that have been posed by my students over these years, or those that a person with common sense might ask.